Martin Short Thrown Out of Vehicle in Which He Was Driving and Badly Cut About the 2 Head.

COMPANIONS ALSO BRUISED.

Check Career of the Animal When the Horse Bolted and the Lines Were Dropped.

Capt. Martin Short, of the Parkville sation, and Mr. and Mrs. George Bader ere seriously injured in a runaway acsident before daylight to-day. Capt. Short had to have several stitches taken in a scalp wound and was badly cut and bruised about the body.

The Baders declined the services of the bulance surgeon and after arriving at their roadhouse in Coney Island Boule opposite Prospect Park, called in their own physician.

Mrs. Bader had the reins and was driving in Eighth avenue, near Ninth street, when a motorman of a Coney street, when a motorman of a listend trolley car which was descending the hill clanged his gong in warning. The spirited horse took fright and dashed down Eighth avenue to Elev-enth street, with Mrs. Bader tugging at the reins. The light trap collided with an awning post and the Baders were rown into the gutter.

Capt. Short, who is a tall, powerful man, reached over the dashboard, after apanions were thrown out, attempting to pick up the flying lines. At Eighth avenue the animal swerved into the curb, capsizing the trap. Capt. t was thrown out, striking on his head and shoulders.

STARIN LINER IS

Excursion Steamer John Lenox Badly Damaged in River Colision and Nearly Sinks Before She Can Be Beached.

As a result of a collision in the North River to-day the steamer John Lenox, of the Starin excursion fleet, was tow-ed to Hoboken half filled with water and at noon started for the shore of the freight yards of the Delaware, Leokawanna & Western Railroad, to beach her lest she sink in midstream. The accident occurred at 10 o'clock. The Lenox was coming down stream, while the tug Edmond L. Levy, towhe barge Vanderbilt, was crossing the river on her way to Seventh street,

In endeavoring to cross the bows of the Lenox, the prow of the Levy struck the steamer near the paddle-box, and such was the force of the collision that the bow was firmly implanted in the ide. Seeing that the damage was coniderable, no effort was made to distodge the Levy until emergency repairs had been made to the Lenox, and when this was done the Levy towed her and the barge to Hoboken.

There it was found that the Lenox was half filled with water, and the attempt at beaching was determined upon. The captain of the Levy lays the blame of the accident on the captain of the Lenox, while the captain of the Lenox refuses to make any statement. There were no excursionists on either steamer or the barge at the time.

Thomas McFarlane, Awaiting Took His Own Life in the Jefferson Market Jail.

USED CORD FROM HIS BED.

Policeman a Victim of Trying to Distorted Features of the Dead Mar Confronted Keeper Through the Bars When He Made His Early Morning Rounds.

> When Keeper Foley made the rounds of the Jefferson Market Prison, on going, on duty to-day, he found the body of Thomas McFarlane hanging from other top of the door of his cell.

Night Keeper McGill made his last round of the prison about 6.30 o'clock. At 7 o'clock Day Keeper Foley relieved him and then made a tour of the corridors, looking into each cell to see that everything was all right.

When he peered into McFariane's cell he saw the distorted features of the man pressed against the bars near the top of the door. The keeper hurriedly opened the door and saw then that Mc-Farlane was hanging on a short rope attached to the crossbar on the top of the door. He cut the man down and called a physician, but McFarlane was
